Women's Evening Group Open Meeting Monday, November 15

Ellen Chesler

The Women's Evening Group is proud to sponsor a stimulating open program meeting on Monday evening, November 15th.

Ellen Chesler, the critically acclaimed author of the new Margaret Sanger biography, will speak on the far-reaching legacy of this early feminist.

"Every woman in the world today who takes her sexual and reproductive autonomy for granted should venerate Margaret Sanger," writes Ms. Chesler. An idealist who mastered practical politics, Sanger seized on conception as the key to redistributing power to women in the bedroom, the home, and the community.

The biography of Margaret Sanger has been

A Word From The Rabbi

This month I would like to draw attention to two important matters that should be of interest to the membership.

Firstly, the Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum Foundation has been launched by his widow, Dr. Georgette F. Bennett. We are proud that Rabbi Tanenbaum was a member of our congregation and I quote hereunder from the release regarding the new foundation:

"A foundation in memory of Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, aimed at extending the pioneering interreligious and humanitarian work of the internationally acclaimed religious leader, has been launched on the first anniversary of his death."

"During a distinguished career, Rabbi Tanenbaum was deemed 'the American Jewish community's foremost apostle to the gentiles,' by Newsweek; 'the foremost ecumenical leader in the world today,' by New York Magazine; and was ranked fourth among the ten most respected and influential leaders in the United States by a poll of religion news editors."

"Whether working for the adoption of a critical declaration on Catholic-Jewish relations during the Second Vatican Council in Rome, or as a member of a fact-finding mission on behalf of the International Rescue Committee in Thailand, Rabbi Tanenbaum proved an eloquent spokesman for interreligious understanding and human rights."

John Cardinal O'Connor, Archbishop of New York, commented on the foundation's creation: "A man of deep faith and understanding, Rabbi Tanenbaum was in many ways a 'pioneer.' Now, the foundation plans to continue the work begun by Rabbi Tanenbaum, engaging in a variety of programs, publications, lectures, etc. I am certain that the foundation will successfully advance the cause of interreligious affairs."

Babysitting is available for children 2 to 5 years of age every Saturday morning from 9:15 A.M. to 12 Noon.

"The foundation, established by his widow, Georgette Bennett, will support national and international programs and studies aimed at ending theologically-based bias. It will assist in the creation of publications and audio-visual materials, and will sponsor internships for students, scholars, and activists, as well as an annual lecture and award."

The second matter is a project of the Women's Evening Group of working with emigres from the former Soviet Union who have come to the New York area during the past five years. The Telephone Language Companion Program is described in a pamphlet which I have received from the group, and I would enjoin congregants to contact Eleanore Geringer, president of the Women's Evening Group, regarding volunteering for this program.

The pamphlet reads as follows:

"A. Our work with Soviet Jewish refugees has made us aware of the need for language proficient emigres to practice their conversational skills with Americans. In view of this need, the Jewish Board of Family and Children's Services has implemented a Telephone Language Companion (TLC) Program. The TLC volunteer calls his/her assigned partner three times per week for at least five minutes per call. Both volunteers and emigres involved in the TLC Program commit to a three month participation."

"B. The emigres participating in the TLC Program are refugees whose English competence has been evaluated to be level three (intermediate) or better. Client participation in this program is completely voluntary."

"C. The primary role of the TLC volunteer is to engage their assigned partner in conversation. The program is not designed to be an instructional class, but rather an opportunity for emigres to practice the skills they have attained and to increase their confidence in speaking English."

"D. A volunteer application and statement of confidentiality must be completed and returned to the program coordinator. Reference letters will be requested and attached to the volunteer's application. Attendance at a two hour training session is required prior to being matched with a language partner."

— Rabbi David H. Lincoln

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

Rosh Hashana, 1993

Rosh Hashana is a time of reflection and hope — thoughtful reflection on the year just past and hope for a good year to come.

The days between Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur are the most solemn of the Hebrew calendar. But in the midst of heartfelt repentance and prayer, it is the promise of life — the rich possibility of realizing our most compelling dreams — that inspires the soul and lifts the spirit.

The ancient customs that are handed down to each new generation in this season are reminders of life's enduring sweetness and its perpetual renewal. The Jewish people celebrate Rosh Hashana above all as a time to rejoice in God for giving us life, for sustaining us, and for again enabling us to reach this season.

May this holiday season be filled with good health and happiness for you and your families, and may the year ahead be one of peace for the people of the United States, Israel, and all the world.

Best wishes for a wonderful New Year.

Bill Clinton

Yom Kippur, 1993

My heartfelt greetings to all who are observing Yom Kippur in this momentous year of history and hope.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, is a holy day that provides the opportunity to seek forgiveness and to enter the new year with a clean conscience and a clear purpose. It is a chance to seek pardon and to ask divine guidance for self-improvement. Yom Kippur emphasizes the importance of honoring the memories of loved ones no longer living, but still remembered. Above all, Yom Kippur recognizes the need to repair personal relationships — relationships with friends and family, with God, with those who live on in our memories, and with those for whom we may have previously felt animosity.

With the recent signing of the agreement between Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organization, this Yom Kippur is particularly significant. It is my wish that people of all cultures and faiths will pledge their active support and energy to help achieve a new era of peace and hope in the Middle East and for the entire world. This will take courage and commitment. As Foreign Minister Peres so eloquently stated at the signing ceremony, "deep gaps call for lofty bridges."

On this most solemn day, let all of us reflect on the enormous challenges that lie ahead. Let us dedicate ourselves to the next generation, and together we will usher in a true season of peace.

Bill Clinton

The Women's Evening Group Reaches Out

The Women's Evening Group, recognizing a need for community outreach, has made generous contributions to the lunch program at the Abraham Residence in Seagate as well as to the food program for Project O.R.E. In addition, WEG, under last year's leadership of co-presidents Susan Heller and Eleanore Geringer, was able to make possible the expansion of the Havurah Service at Park Avenue Synagogue for the coming year. This learning service will enable those congregants who participate in it to join the main service with greater understanding and enjoyment.

Project O.R.E., a division of the Educational Alliance, serves homeless, formerly homeless, and isolated Jewish people of all ages. It seems difficult to imagine that there are Jews living on the streets with no family or friends to turn to. Project O.R.E seeks them out and provides not only basic necessities, but psychiatric and medical care, and job opportunities.

The Abraham Residence in Seagate is part of the Metropolitan New York Coordinating Council on Jewish Poverty. It houses elderly single people, primarily Jewish, in a lovely residence, where each person has a spacious and personally decorated studio apartment. The residents are encouraged to participate in the governing body of the facility.

The Women's Evening Group is very proud and happy to have been able to utilize its resources for such meaningful ventures.

Author Esther Hautzig

Jewish is both thought-provoking and inspiring as it examines the challenge and solace of being Jewish, and will take its place beside the works of Anne Frank and Eli Wiesel. Esther Hautzig has been blessed with an extraordinary life and a gift for listening and telling stories. This book will make an indelible impression on readers of all faiths; for Jews it is a poignant comment on the triumph of the Jewish spirit.

Esther Hautzig was born in Vilna, Poland and came to the United States in 1947. She married Walter Hautzig, a concert pianist, in 1950, had two children, and attended Hunter College.

She lectures and speaks on writing, reading, and bookmaking at many schools, libraries, and professional association meetings and has received many awards for her books, most notably for The Endless Steppe: Growing up in Siberia, 1968, the story of her childhood in Siberia. It has been in print for over 20 years and is available in eight foreign editions.

Vicki Wimpfheimer is the chairperson for this program and Mattie Goldberg is Sisterhood president.

A coffee hour will follow Ms. Hautzig's talk.

WEG Open Meeting

widely praised by critics for its incisive writing and its prodigious research.

Betty Friedan has hailed the biography as follows: "A Woman of Valor shows us a zesty, authentic heroine who kept on evolving personally and politically, as we all must. I found fascinating lessons for feminists today in Margaret Sanger's struggle for reproductive autonomy. Chesler shows how Sanger transcended both the radical rhetoric and the conventional politics of her day to forge a new way for women."

A graduate of Vassar College, Ellen Chesler earned her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in history from Columbia University where she was a faculty fellow. She is currently a fellow at the 20th Century Fund and lives with her husband and two children in New York City where she has been active in local government.

Please join us for an exciting exploration of the world of this fascinating woman, made vividly modern through the magic of Ms. Chesler's words.

Refreshments will be served at 7:30 P.M. and the program will begin at 8 P.M., followed by a short question and answer period. There also will be the opportunity to socialize both before and after the program.

Judaica Classics

Judaica Classics, Park Avenue Synagogue's exciting new gift shop is featuring a fabulous and unique collection of menorahs for the upcoming festival of Hanukkah. Many of the menorahs are one-of-a-kind signed works of art, while others are whimsical, musical, and well-suited for young children. They come in sterling silver, silver plate, brass, ceramic, lucite and anything else that artists could possibly use creatively. And these menorahs are priced to suit any and every budget.

And especially for Hanukkah, the gift shop also will feature a complete line of games and toys, books for children of all ages, dieldels made of sterling silver, wood, ceramic, and glass, and unique Hanukkah candles.

Please stop in to say hello and to see what the gift shop has to offer. Doina Bryskin and Susan Degen are looking forward to meeting you and to serving your Judaic and gift-giving needs.

New Honor For Rabbi Nadich

The Jewish Braille Institute of America, in whose leadership Rabbi Judah Nadich has been active for 36 years, has elected him as its Honorary Vice President for life. Rabbi Nadich's books have been transcribed into braille, as well as the ten coast-to-coast radio talks he gave for the Eternal Light radio program under the auspices of The Jewish Theological Seminary of America.
